Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1500 on Thursday 09 Sep 2021

UK Outlook for Friday 24 Sep 2021 to Friday 8 Oct 2021:
Confidence is typically low. The most likely scenario is that conditions remain more unsettled overall from mid-to late September, beyond which a trend to more settled conditions is probable, especially across the south. Within the unsettled period there is a very low risk of very disturbed, perhaps stormy conditions. Rainfall expected to be above average, although may trend to near or drier than average late into September and into early October. Temperatures likely to remain above average throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.